What the Common Market Means to You (5) Future of the Market

A United States of Europe, talked about for generations, may be in the making through the Common Market. Embryo organs are already in operation: councils of ministers, 142-member parliament, various supranational commissions (such as Coal and Steel, Atomic Energy) and, most recently, a common agricultural policy.

Closer political co-operation—an "Atlantic Community"—between Europe and America is urged by many.

NEXT MAJOR STEPS

A common European currency.

Popularly elected international officials and representatives.

SOME OBJECTIONS TO THE MARKET:

- By concentrating on trade among themselves, the Market nations may shut out non-Market customers in many instances.
- The example of the Market may encourage the setting up of numerous trading blocks, lead to trade wars.

Market members discount these fears, maintaining that a strong Market will increase trade, raise living standards and benefit everyone.

What effect the Market will have on the world depends in large measure on what the United States does.

NEXT: America's Role.

Stabilization

tion Act, which first was adopted in 1945 in the administration of Gov. Ben Laney. Each two years the legislature amends the act to bring it up to date.

Arguments that the governor's Emergency Fund appropriation gives the governor unrestricted authority to spend $100,000 each year were rejected on grounds that the act specifically allocates the money for use in emergencies and the governor has the right to decide what is an emergency. The court said any allocation the governor makes from the fund can be attacked individually to let the courts decide if a genuine emergency exists.

Johnson said the Revenue Stabilization Act was the final move in a long campaign to end deficit financing in the state. He said voters several times expressed a desire for an end to deficit financing. Johnson quoted from a previous Supreme Court opinion which said:

"It is the bounden duty of courts not to defeat the will of the people, expressed through their representatives in the legislative halls, unless it is clearly manifest that some vested right or provision of the constitution has been invaded."

The suit, on one of a series of actions of the 1961 legislature was filed last year after the Supreme Court overturned the 1961 Omnibus Appropriations Act. There is no known link, however, between this suit and the one attacking the omnibus act.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus and other state officials had expressed concern over the suit, saying overturn of the Revenue Stabilization Act would cause fiscal chaos in the state.

Faubus has said a special legislative session would be necessary if the act were overturned.

He was not available immediately for comment on the decision today.

Estes' affairs.

Called as the eye witness was Carl L. Miller, former head of the Federal Warehouse Act branch. Miller, now transferred to other duties, was the man who decided Estes' warehouse bond should remain at $700,000 even though his storage operations had increased fourfold.

Four other department employees have been called to testify. They are Rolland F. Ballou, assistant deputy administrator of commodity operations; S. R. Smith, administrator of the marketing service which deals with warehouses; D. W. Townsend, acting chief of the warehouse act branch; and Donald I. McCoy, in charge of the branch's Wichita, Kan., field office.

The Fountain subcommittee hearings are expected to recess for the Memorial Day holiday, and probably won't resume until next week, but a subcommittee official looked for a long haul. "We'll be lucky if we finish with this in two months," he said.

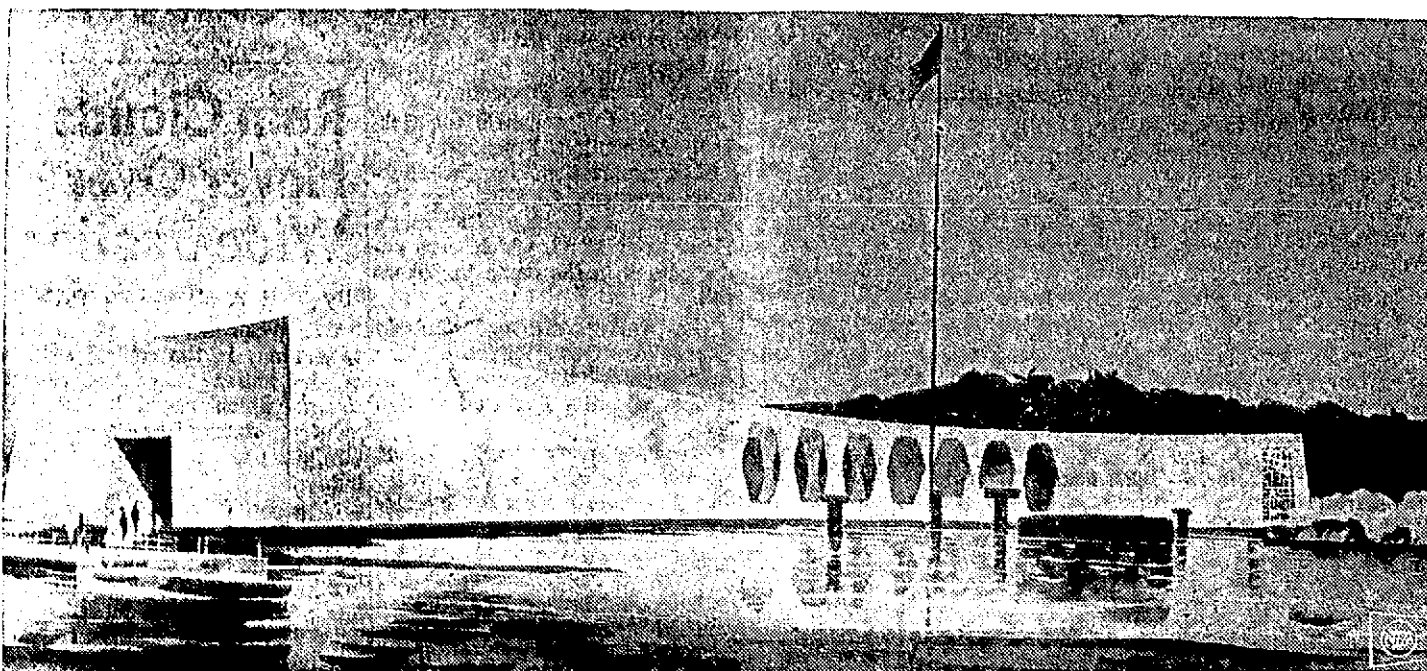

Another hearing is in preparation in the Senate, under Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark. It will reach the public hearing stage in about a month.

A grand jury investigating the death of Henry H. Marshall, an Agriculture Department official, reconvenes today in Franklin, Tex.

Marshall, who had been investigating Estes' cotton acreage allotments, was found dead last June 3 on his farm near Franklin. The death was ruled a suicide at first, but the case has been reopened and a pathologist has said Marshall probably was murdered.

Over the weekend the Justice Department made available to the grand jury parts of a confidential report on Estes and cotton allotments prepared by the Agriculture Department. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said there were several references to Marshall in the report but no information about his death.

Republicans, seizing on the case as Democrats did the Bernard Goldfinger scandal that rocked the Eisenhower administration, have accused the Agriculture Department of dragging its feet in the

Candidate Says He'll Save Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Kenneth Coffelt reiterated Sunday night that he could save at least $5 million a year in state expenses if he were governor.

Coffelt appeared on television interview program, "Candidate for Governor," on KTHS, Little Rock. Other candidates have been invited to appear on the same program.

The Little Rock attorney said he would save $1.4 million annually by halting the practice of providing automobiles for many state employees, $100,000 a year in operating costs for the governor's mansion and about $100,000 by eliminating the Legislative Council among other savings.

Asked about his views on reverse freedom rides, Coffelt said he thought it best to ignore them. Other candidates were busy over the weekend, but the major development was withdrawal Friday of Marvin Melton of Jonesboro. Melton quit because, he said, he could not get commitments for adequate funds to finance his campaign.

Melton hinted that pressure from the governor's office had dried up the source of money, but he would not elaborate.

Rep. Dale Alford made no speaking appearances at poultry festivals at Hope and Springdale and a factory dedication at Newport.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, now left with only six opponents to his fifth term bid, was at Hope and Newport. He addressed a high school commencement at Enola (Faulkner County) Friday night.

David A. Cox of Weiner said he would back a constitutional amendment to provide for election of four highway commissioners by county judges. He indicated he would start a move for the amendment today.

The big question over the weekend was where Melton's votes would go.

Faubus, Vernon Whitten of Mount Holly and McMath all laid claim to them.

Whitten said he would be the heir because, like Melton, he is a businessman candidate. Faubus said he and Melton had many mutual friends. McMath's headquarters said the office was flooded with calls for Melton's supporters.

French May Try Salan Second Time

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS (AP)—The French government may try Secret Army Organization chief Raoul Salan again in an effort to get him condemned to death. But it bowed today to a Supreme Court desire to study further an appeal against the death sentence of his No. 1 deputy.

The deputy is Edmond Jouhaud, like Salan a former general in the French armed forces. They were masterminds of the terrorist war that the secret army still wages against Algerian independence.

In Salan's case the government seeks the death penalty to help convince European terrorists that their campaign to block independence of the North African territory is futile.

The special tribunal which tried Salan on treason charges and gave him a life sentence last Wednesday was abolished Sunday in a move which may clear the way for a new trial.

Jouhaud was condemned to death at an earlier trial. His attorneys are now seeking to save him from execution.

French sources said Saturday the government intended to go ahead with Jouhaud's execution if the secret army did not noticeably slacken its terror campaign within three days.

The secret army responded with renewed violence, including burning and blasting schools and government offices in Algiers, the capital.

Terrorists killed 22 persons in Algeria Sunday, 29 of them Muslims.

A French source said the three-day limit had been established because it was believed the Supreme Court would have had sufficient time to act on the appeal within that period.

Today it was made clear that the court would meet further time.

Unless new evidence is brought forward, informants said, President Charles de Gaulle is determined to go ahead with Jouhaud's execution.

Seeks Funds for Youth University

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Rev. Billy James Hargis, head of the controversial anti-communist Christian Crusade of Tulsa, arrived in Little Rock Sunday soliciting funds for a youth university.

Hargis told Little Rock supporters the crusade is setting up the Christian Crusade Anti-Communist Youth University in Colorado, which opens its doors to students June 1, 1963.

The school will be housed in a hotel at the base of Pike's Peak which the evangelist said was bought for $20,000 but worth $100,000.

Consisting of five two-week seminars of 150 students each, the school will be operated only during summer months, Hargis said.

He warned that pro-communist groups are busy recruiting the nation's youth and "the heat's on the anti's."

There's a real need, Hargis said, for "A summer university somewhere in the United States to train leaders among college youth in anti communism and the free enterprise system."

His youth university would fill this need, Hargis said.

About 90 persons turned up for the meeting, which was announced last month. Hargis solicited funds for his crusade and the proposed school but did not reveal how much was collected.

Hargis also announced four upcoming anti-communist rallies this summer sponsored by the crusade to which representatives of the John Birch Society and the Daughters of the American Revolution have been invited.

Find Place Plane Blast Occurred

CENTERVILLE, Iowa (AP)—A spokesman for government investigators said Sunday night they have pinpointed the place of an explosion in a Continental Airlines jet that sent 45 persons to their deaths.

A high energy blast occurred in the right rear lavatory of the plane before it was torn apart in flight, said Edward E. Slattery, public information officer for the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation also were active in a probe of the tragedy, in which the tail section of the airliner separated and the main fuselage landed in a farm yard in nearby Missouri.

Experts of the CAB have been reconstructing wreckage of the Boeing 707 at the Appanoose County fairgrounds.

Slattery said that work on the mockup so far made clear the spot where the explosion occurred.

The type of explosive set off could have included dynamite, Slattery said.

Federal agents at Los Angeles said they were trying to find out whether there was any possible link between the theft of 350 sticks of dynamite there and the jet crash.

The airliner went down the night of May 22. William G. Simon, special agent in charge of the Los Angeles FBI office, said the dynamite and 900 electronic detonating caps were stolen from a storage yard in the Fernando Valley May 16.

FBI men assigned to the plane investigation conferred with CAB and other investigators here for about 90 minutes Sunday. Later the agents took possession of a brown leather briefcase which had been listed as part of the plane debris.

The briefcase, with the initials T. C. D., had been found a mile east of Cincinnati, Iowa, a few miles southwest of here. That was on the path of the plane's fatal plunge in which parts of it were strewn over the countryside.

Fifty per cent of all traffic accidents occur at speeds of less than 40 miles per hour.

Major Crimes Fewer, FBI Report Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fewer major crimes were committed in Little Rock the first three months of 1962 than were committed during the same period in 1961, or so a Federal Bureau of Investigation Crime Report showed today.

But while major crime declined, minor offenses shot far ahead of last year's figures, the report said.

Three murders or non-negligent slaughters, four forcible rapes and 24 robberies were committed the first three months of 1962. During the same period this year two murders, one forcible rape and 18 robberies were recorded, the report said.

In his report, FBI director J. Edgar Hoover pointed out that crime in American cities showed a one per cent increase over the same period in 1961.

Hoover called attention to a 29 per cent increase in the number of murders committed in cities with populations between 250,000 and 750,000.

Cities with approximately the same populations showed fewer major crimes than Little Rock in most instances.

Pasadena, Calif., Waterbury, Conn., Columbus, Ga., Peoria, Ill., Cambridge Mass., Lansing Mich. and Niagara Falls, N.Y., all had fewer major crimes than Little Rock, but Lubbock, Tex., had five murders, four forcible rapes, but only nine robberies the first three months of 1962.

But in minor crimes, Columbus, Lubbock and Cambridge exceeded the total for Little Rock the first three months of this year.

More Highway Aid Is Predicted

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Highway Director F. R. Oliver said Saturday he expects Arkansas to receive an additional $1.2 million in federal highway funds during the next fiscal year.

Oliver said the state is on schedule in its use of such funds, ranking second behind South Dakota.

He said the additional funds have been allocated for the 525 mile Interstate Highway system in the state.

Total highway construction in the state during the next fiscal year is expected to reach $88 million, including the amount paid by the state, Oliver said. He said during the fiscal year starting July 1, Arkansas will have a total of $2.8 million in federal funds for Interstate, primary and secondary roads.

About $50 million of this would go for the Interstate System, Oliver said, about $10 million for primary and $8 million for secondary roads.

Princesses Picked

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — Four poultry princesses were chosen at the second annual Northwest Arkansas Poultry Festival in Springdale Saturday night.

Jessie Bivens of Huntsville, Jerrie An MacAdoo of Hot Springs, Linda Cooper of Marked Tree and Phyllis Cook of Fayetteville will represent the area in the state Poultry Festival June 8-9 at Little Rock.

Wigs of real hair are a life saver for a busy career girl like this model. She can go from a swimming date to an elaborate formal when she knows she has a wig at home to cover her windblown hair. Her own fine, dark hair won't hold a curl during the hot, humid months. It has been cut short, and simply styled (left) so that she can comfortably wear a wig on top. For a complete change of looks, she wears a blonde wig (center). This gives her a chance to try the pastel make-up and fashions that flatter blondes. Her brunette wig, dramatically styled in a flip-up for evening wear (right) can also be worn in an upsweep. With this wig, she wears more brilliant colors to play up her dark hair. These wigs can be shampooed and restyled in the beauty salon.

Gardening is a delightful pastime, but the wise gardener takes the precaution of protecting her looks while she works. This woman shampoos her hair after a session of working in the soil and sun (left), for she knows that the exercise induces perspiration. Although she wears gloves while gardening, she scrubs the last bit of soil from her knuckles with a well-lathered loofah (center) and never neglects her weekly manicure. She wears a broad-brimmed gardening hat (right) to protect her hair and complexion from the sun. Her work clothes can be sudsed clean after every wearing.

She Leads a Dog's Life

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Everybody's out of step but me at my home. My husband and our six children love dogs. I don't, yet there has always been one in my life. We had 57-varieties mut called Heinie and broke out in a rash which when I was small—the first of a long procession. As one died my kid brother always found another dog that goes along. Would it be bad, since none were my particular responsibility, I had no problem.

After I married it was different. When our first baby came my husband said, "Darling, every child should have a pet," and promptly bought a puppy. That was 19 years ago. I'm keeper of the hounds. I don't mind cleaning after a dog as much as I do having it sleep on our beds, jump up on furniture, be underfoot in the kitchen or dining room when we eat.

Our current dog is two years old. Yesterday it chewed the toes off my new patent leather pumps while I was at a PTA meeting. Knowing how the kids and my husband feel about him I said nothing but I sure stewed inside. Our doctor says is pure nerves. We are moving soon and I told my husband it will be me or the dog that goes along. Would it be bad for the kids if I sent it away? —Mrs. M.

Dear Mrs. M.: Getting rid of the dog won't rid yourself of the problem. The issue is sure to bob up in one form or another until settled. By selling the dog you'll lose face in the eyes of the family as well as yourself. The children may say nothing but they're bound to think, "Here's one Mama couldn't take," or "She cares more about herself than us."

Don't lock up your emotions.

Tell your family exactly how you feel. Ask them to help you train the dog. As with a child, it should be taught to respect the rights of others. This training requires infinite patience and understanding. Like children, animals are quick to sense antipathy in others and perversely make life miserable for those who hate or fear them. But most animals, especially dogs, want to please. If you will just show yours now, he will do his best to conform.

Dear Helen: Am I responsible for something my husband has done? I used to have a lot of friends. Now, because of his straying from the straight and narrow, nobody will have anything to do with either of us. He says it's my imagination. I know different. It would be a lot easier if people came out and said why. Instead, they smile at us. —Heartsick

Dear Heartsick: Even though not responsible for your husband's conduct you are bound to feel. Ask them to help you train the dog. As with a child, it should be taught to respect the rights of others. This training requires infinite patience and understanding. Like children, animals are quick to sense antipathy in others and perversely make life miserable for those who hate or fear them. But most animals, especially dogs, want to please. If you will just show yours now, he will do his best to conform.

Dear Helen: I am an average 15-year-old girl with a father and mother who encourage me to invite my friends in weekends for record playing, dancing and games. The most popular game is Post Office. This leads to necking. The biggest neckers are couples going steady. I don't object to kissing games but they carry them too far. How can I be a good hostess without letting my parties slump into necking sessions? Tired of Necking

Dear Tired: A party, like a speech, no matter how casual,

A two-year-old Lake Village girl drowned Sunday afternoon after wandering into deep water at Lake Chicot near her home. Her death brought to 10 the number dying violently in Arkansas during the week ended last midnight.

Officers said Erin Kathleen Tullios, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tullios, had been playing in the water with several other children when the accident occurred.

During the week, four persons died in highway accidents, two drowned, one was dragged to death by a horse, one suffered a fatal fall, one died by fire and one was shot to death.

A ping-pong match or jigsaw puzzle competition with the kids divided into competing teams would supply a more normal outlet for their emotions, especially if the parents joined in buying a little trophy for the winning team.

Cleveland in Sole Possession of First Place

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's big Jim Gentile is the only pitcher who has a completely different version of the story. The figures seem to support the pitchers. To wit: a 300 1/3-inning, 36 runs batted in record in the league and a record-breaking total of 45 home runs.

The 6-foot-4, 210-pound Gentile is unimpressed.

"I'm a lucky hitter," he said. "I've been in a slump for a while, but I'm a lucky hitter."

Loney or lucky, the results are impressive. Take his last six games: 11 hits in 25 times at bat, 15 home runs and 11 runs batted in. Or take Sunday's game. He had three hits, including an 11th-inning homer, in the Orioles' 4-2 triumph over Boston.

Cleveland took sole possession of first place with a 5-3 triumph over Washington while New York split a pair with Detroit. The Yankees won the first 4-1, lost the second 4-1. Minnesota pulled to within a half-game of the top with a sweep over Chicago, 5-4 and 6-0. Los Angeles and Kansas City split, the A's taking the first 3-2, the Angels the second 6-3.

In the National League, San Francisco beat the New York Mets 7-4 and 6-5. Los Angeles' Dodgers kept pace with two victories over Philadelphia 5-2 and 5-1. Cincinnati climbed into third with a 10-0 rout of Chicago. Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 4-3 and 5-1. St. Louis beat Boston 7-2.

Steve Snyder broke the 2-2 tie at bat with an 11th-inning homer, but one out before Gentile stepped to the plate and "got it" with his 15th homer, breaking Robinson's earlier record for runs.

Game runs by Tito Francona and Willie Kirkland staked Cleveland to a 5-4 lead in the fifth inning and the Indians took it from there in beating Washington and grabbing sole control of the top spot.

The Yankees fell a half-game from the pace when Detroit's Paul Foytack (2-1) stopped them on six hits in the nightcap. Foytack struck out eight and stranded 11 runners.

A three-run eighth-inning, featuring Chico Fernandez' two-run single, put it out of reach. The Yankees won the first 4-1. Bill Skowron's three-run homer in the ninth.

Minnesota pulled to within a half-game of Cleveland and 9 percentage points of New York with a sweep, but lost the services of other Earl Battey, who suffered a split finger. Rookie George Zerk's two-run homer, his first, was the difference in the opener.

Harmon Killebrew hammered a three-run homer, his 11th, to high-lift a four-run seventh-inning out won the nightcap for the Angels and gave them a split with the A's.

The A's spotted Los Angeles a lead in the first, but came back to take it. A run-producing seventh-inning single by Joe Alcega clinched the comeback behind the six-hit pitching of Dave Ackersham (5-1).

Starters at Speedway Working Out

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The 33 starters in Wednesday's 500-mile auto race were allowed their first workout in eight days at the Speedway today and 32 of them were watching 1961 winner A. J. Foyt Jr. out of the corner of their eyes.

The lucky Texan, U.S. Auto Club national champion the last two years, had been overshadowed in the qualifications by Parnelli Jones, defending national sprint car champ, who turned the old race track's first 150-mile-an-hour lap in the qualifications.

Then Foyt went out and beat Parnelli at his specialty Sunday on new Indianapolis raceway Park's 6-mile track, six miles west of the Speedway.

The field was full of 500 drivers but the 50-lap event was strictly a two-car race between Foyt and Jones, Jones, who had set a new qualifying record for the track, since suffering a stroke eight days ago. Then Foyt squeezed past on a turn and won decisively.

Giants Down Mets Twice, Fists Fly

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Felipe Alou didn't throw any haymakers in that big brawl at San Francisco's Candlestick Park, but he did do some key punching where it counted—at the plate.

Alou combined with Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays, main eventers in the wild-swinging fight, to produce a flurry of telling hits as the Giants rapped New York's last-place Mets Sunday 7-1 and 6-5 and protected their National League lead over the sizzling Los Angeles Dodgers.

Felipe batted in three runs in each game, collected five hits, scored three times and stole three bases. He was the clutch man in the Giants' winning four-run rally in the eighth inning of the second game, singling in Mays and Cepeda, then coming around with the clincher on a wild pitch, a steal of third and a passed ball.

Cepeda had five hits, one RBI and three runs scored. Mays registered four hits, one RBI and scored four. When the dust had settled, the Giants had their fifth successive victory and the sizzling Mets' loss string had been extended to eight.

In Los Angeles, the Dodgers kept 1 1/2 games back of the Giants and ran their winning streak to eight with a sweep over Philadelphia, 5-2 and 2-1. Cincinnati took over third place by winning its fourth in a row, 10-0 over Chicago, behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Purkey. Milwaukee edged St. Louis 4-3, and Pittsburgh trimmed Houston's error-plagued Colts 7-2.

Cleveland took a half-game lead in the American League with a 5-3 victory over Washington while New York split with Detroit, winning the first 4-1 and losing the second 5-1. Minnesota moved into a virtual tie with the Yankees with a sweep over Chicago 5-4 and 6-6; Kansas City and Los Angeles divided a pair, the A's taking the opener 3-2 and the Angels winning the second game 6-3; and Baltimore beat Boston 4-2 in 11 innings.

Winner Jack Sanford and relief star Stu Miller checked the Mets on five hits in the opener at San Francisco and Jim Duffalo won the second game in relief. Roger Craig and Craig Anderson were losing pitchers.

Tempers began to simmer in the first inning of the first game when Craig threw a couple of brush-back pitches at Mays, but the explosion didn't come until the seventh.

The melee lasted six minutes and involved about 50 participants, many of them playing peacemaking roles. As with most baseball brawls, few telling blows landed.

New York shortstop Elio Chacon, the only man ejected, carried away the only known wound—a minor spike mark on his left leg.

Tim Harkness struck the winning blow for the Dodgers in their second game with a bases-loaded single after two were out in the bottom of the ninth, giving right-hander Don Drysdale his 12th straight victory over the Phillies. Drysdale (7-3) pitched an eight-inning in a tight showdown with Art Mahaffey.

Frank Howard was the key hitter in the opener with three singles and a triple and three runs batted in. The huge outfielder also committed an unusual base-running error, failing to touch third and being declared out on a homer by John Roseboro. Stan Williams was the winning pitcher, with last-out relief from Ron Perranoski.

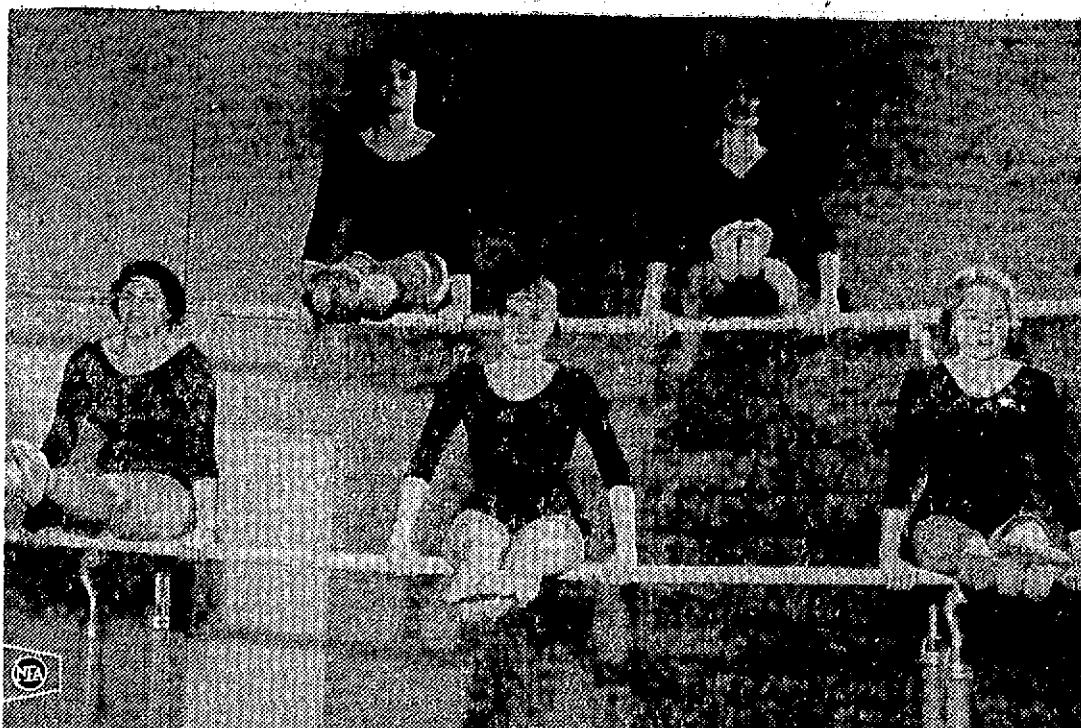

Purkey won for the eighth time in nine decisions by holding Chicago to four singles in Cincinnati's runaway. The ace right-hander yielded only two hits and a walk through eight innings, then two singles in the ninth as the Reds continued their climb by taking the 12th of their last 15 starts. They bombed Don Cardwell and two successors for 14 hits, including homers by Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman in a six-run fourth inning.

Milwaukee bunched its four runs in the fifth inning and held on for its close one over St. Louis. The Cards got to winner Bob Shaw for a run in the ninth when Ken Boyer tripled and Carl Sawatski singled, but Stan Musial killed the rally by grounding into a double play.

The Braves hammered Bob Gibson in the fifth as Eddie Mathews singled, Hank Aaron doubled and Mack Jones doubled—all following two walks after two were out.

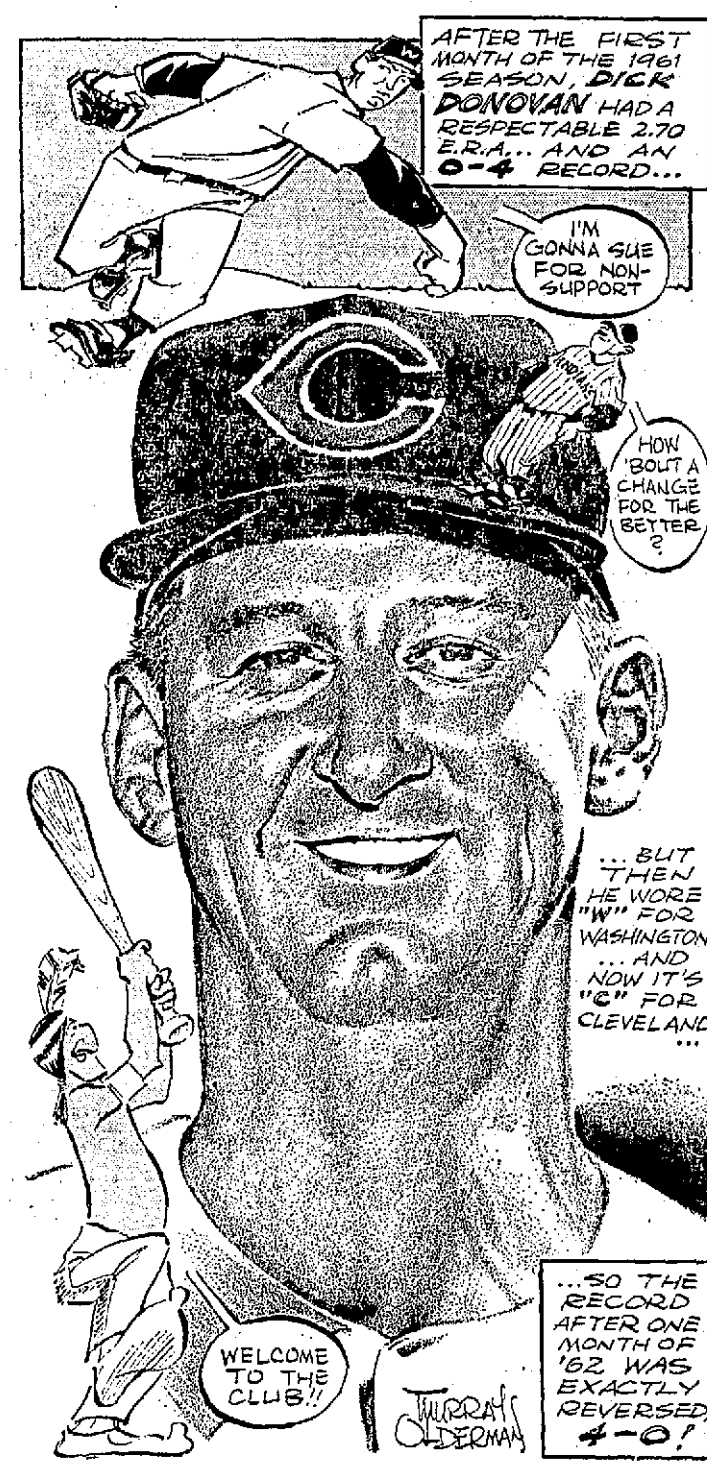

Pittsburgh put together a five-run sixth inning with the help of Houston's erratic fielding in whipping the Colts. Vern Law pitched an eight-inning for the Pirates, who took advantage of five Houston errors and racked up five unearned runs.

REVERSING THE RECORD

Villanova Team Class of East

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Villanova's track and field team proved over the past weekend what everyone knew. It's the class of the East. But how about the nation?

Coach Jim (Jumbo) Elliott shook his head negatively when asked if his powerful forces could win the NCAA title at Eugene, Ore., June 15-16. Villanova, as expected, easily won the 86th annual ICAA championship on its home grounds Friday and Saturday.

But Elliott said he couldn't see how his lads could top Oregon's fine team next month. He even hedged on the chances of his sensational sprinter, Frank Budd, winning the 100 and 220 in the nationals.

Budd, the senior from Asbury Park, N.J., scored a double for the second straight year. He captured the 100 in 9.6, and the 220 in 20.6, each time beating his teammate Paul Drayton.

But the runner often referred to as the fastest human in the world had to share the spotlight with his teammates in Villanova's 49 1/2 to 25 1/2 edge over Yale.

Leon Pras won 120-hurdles in 14.2. Pat Traynor the 3,000 meter steeplechase in record time of 9:19.1. Doug Kerr the javelin with a throw of 224-10 1/2, and Rolando Cruz tied for the pole vault title at 15-6. Billy Joe finished second in the shot put to Gary Gubner of NYU, who broke the meet record with a toss of 61-1 1/2.

More than 582 million people have visited the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., since its opening in 1922.

Records Fall in Speedway Golf Meet

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — When the king of golf is away, the gang will play—and profitably, too.

In the absence of Arnold Palmer, priming for the U.S. Open, Billy Casper, Sunday won the $50,000 "500" Festival Open with a record-smashing 264 total, 20 strokes under par.

Along with Casper, runner-up to Palmer in this year's PGA money-winning list, no fewer than five other golfers shattered the Speedway tourney record of 270 set by Doug Ford in 1960.

Ford, seeking a third straight Speedway title, didn't do so well. His 277 put him in a six-way tie for 29th and earned him only $201.

The hot-shooting Casper's $9,000 take swelled his 1962 purse to $41,208.

It seemed for a few minutes in the Speedway that a sudden death playoff might be in order. Jerry Steelsmith and husky George Bayer each stormed to a 19-under-par finish with closing eagle threes just ahead of Casper, last to play.

But Casper birdied the 71st hole to go 19 under par and then came up with another birdie on the last hole for his closing 64.

Bayer, whose last victory was in the 1960 St. Petersburg Open, delighted the crowd with a 20-foot eagle putt for the day's best round, an 8-under-par 63. Steelsmith finished with 64, matching Bayer at 265. Each collected $3,800.

Sharing fourth place at 268 were Bruce Crampton and Bill Collins, each getting $2,450, while Dave Ragan took $2,100 with his sixteenth spot 269.
